The IWB provides a limited number of students with partial assistance for university sanctioned summer programs, which involve travel outside the United States. The program is highly competitive. Preference is given to students who have completed their junior year and will be returning for their senior year. Students with between 70 and 100 hours will also be considered. Graduate students may apply, but preference is given to undergraduate students. All applications should have completed the core curriculum, have a GPA of 3.2, and have excellent references. IWB does not usually provide more than $1,000 in support per person. This scholarship applies to both genders.
