PRESS RELEASE

For Release: Wednesday, May 4, 2009

The University of Texas-Pan American will reopen its Starr County Upper-Level Center Tuesday, May 5.

The decision to reopen was made late Monday after Starr County Health officials and UTPA administrations decided it was safe for students and employees to return following the three day campus closure due to the Swine Flu threat. Administrators will continue to monitor the situation and will inform students, faculty and staff if there are any changes.

For further information and updates, contact UTPA's Department of Environmental Health and Safety at 381-3690 or log onto www.utpa.edu/ehs.
